

EUROPEAN POLITICS IN TURBULENT ERA

Developments in England and France Give Rise to Many Sensational Rumors.

BY DAVID M. CHURCH.
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—European politics are again going through a desperate era of turbulence and the crash of the coalition governments in England and Italy give indication that sensational developments may be expected later on.

Both the Tory and Liberal leaders in England in their campaign speeches are warning against "the all red route of socialism and the threat of revolution by the communists and labor factions."

In Italy the Fascisti did not stop at speeches of warning but seized the government and today the first anti-communist cabinet in western Europe is functioning at Rome.

After accepting the cooperation of labor for the overthrow of the Lloyd George coalition government in England, the Tories, in their hour of victory turned against the Labor party.

Hear Unrest Rumblings.

There had been rumblings of unrest in Paris and indications that the Poincare ministry was facing collapse were growing when the English cabinet fell. This acted as a prop for the French government, on account of the hostility which Premier Lloyd George had been showing toward M. Poincare and his colleagues.

Germany is on the verge of bankruptcy and at the present moment the allied reparations commission in Berlin trying to bolster up the mark and avert a crash. All Germany is torn with political strife and assassination plots.

The new Athens administration is not any too secure. Plots are cropping up and at the present time the Greek crown prince is under arrest. Revolution is reported from western Thrace in the Balkans.

Between Two Fires.

Jugo-Slavia has been caught between two fires—the Italian nationalist movement in the west and the Turkish machinations to the east.

The Near East peace conference which will open on Nov. 13, threatens international complications and rivalries which may sow the seeds of another Balkan war.

In the meantime Russia, despairing of obtaining help or recognition abroad, has begun to reorganize and build from within and is steadily growing in strength.

FORM GOVERNMENT FOR REDEEMED PROVINCES

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The French government will propose to parliament that Alsace and Lorraine be incorporated again into the departmental administration of France, dating from March 1, 1923.

The two provinces taken from France by Germany during the war of 1870 and restituted to her by the treaty of Versailles, will form the three departments of the Moselle (Moselle), Bas-Rhin and Haut-Rhin (Alsace).

Since the armistice the administration of the two provinces has been in the hands of a high commission whose seat is at Strasbourg. Together with the change, the railways of Alsace and Lorraine, which have been under the management of the commission, will pass back to French government administration. The return of Alsace and Lorraine to departmental regime will bring the total number of French departments back to 55.

3,000 LIQUOR CASES JAM CHICAGO COURTS

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(By U. P.)—Federal courts in Chicago are jammed with liquor and dope cases. More than 3,000 bills are awaiting hearing before the federal judges of northern Illinois, of which approximately two-thirds are violations of the prohibition law. About 900 are violations of the federal anti-drug act.

Judge James H. Wilkerson and George A. Carpenter, in an effort to dispose of the huge number of cases, have ordered the defendants to appear before them at the rate of 100 a day. All of the larger jury trials have been shelved to make way for the conglomeration of lesser indictments.

U. S. Judge, After 30 Years of Service, Quits Bench to Earn Living for Family

Founder and Head of Court of Custom Appeals Returns to Private Life.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(By I. N. S.)—Judge Marion Devries, founder and presiding justice of the United States court of customs appeals, today resigned from the bench. His resignation was accepted by President Harding, who sent him a letter extolling his 31 years of work in the customs service.

Judge Devries resigned to enter law practice. "On Dec. 31," he wrote to Mr. Harding, "I would have completed 30 continuous years in the public service, all my time and energy having been devoted to that service. It now becomes incumbent upon me in the interests of the welfare of my family and self—to retire to the practice of my profession."

Judge Devries is a native Californian, having been an assistant district attorney before coming to Washington to serve two terms in congress. After his retirement from congress in 1900 he entered the customs service, where he originated many reforms, and ultimately rose to the chief justiceship of the court of appeals.

'BEVERIDGE DONE FOR'—CARAWAY'S FLAT PREDICTION

Arkansas Senator, Back From Speaking Tour, Radiates Optimism.

BY J. BART CAMPBELL,
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—With his pockets filled with predictions of Democratic victories, Sen. Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, returned here today from a speaking tour of Ohio, Indiana and Missouri, and declared the Democrats would unquestionably carry all three states.

Caraway did not stop there. He predicted also that the Democrats would even wrest control of the house from the Republicans. He figured the Democratic majority in the house at between 50 and 75, and estimated a gain of at least three seats in the senate for his party—Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana; Gov. Edward I. Edwards, of New Jersey; and J. F. O'Connor of North Dakota.

Caraway declared the Democrats would carry Indiana by from 25,000 to 30,000 and overwhelm the Republicans in Ohio—President Harding's "home state"—by from 350,000 to 400,000, "certainly not less than 200,000."

Revolt Against Administration. "I traveled clear across Ohio and Indiana," said Caraway, "I addressed meetings of farmers, business men and workers. I mixed with people everywhere, and I found a strong revolt against the administration. The Republicans in Indiana are all split up by their family quarrels. I met 'Tom' Marshall, former vice president at Mansfield, Ohio, and he agreed with me that Indiana, his own state, with which he certainly ought to be familiar, was sure to go Democratic.

"Beveridge is done for. He is now desperately trimming to catch every political breeze that blows. He is not going to get any help from some of the 'old line' Republicans of Indiana.

"Ohio is ready to rise up and repudiate the administration and especially Harry Daugherty (the attorney general). Wayne R. Wheeler, of the anti-saloon league is campaigning all over the state for Fess, the Republican senatorial candidate and seeking to work up the 'drys' in his favor, but Sen. Pomerene will be re-elected.

Missouri Democratic. "Sen. 'Jim' Reed will win in Missouri by a surprisingly big majority. It is going to be a Democratic year all along the line. I have been in many states since congress quit, and I could feel unrest and dissatisfaction in the air. The Republicans are going to be surprised by the felt that is coming to them."

Caraway is the first Democratic senator who has returned to the capital with optimism enough to make definite predictions. His claims were generally hoisted by the few Republican senators left in Washington. Both Republicans and Democratic managers, however, figure that Missouri and Ohio are going to be close. Caraway's prediction that Ohio would go Democratic by 200,000 was characterized as "impossible" in Republican quarters.

A COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

It is hard for you who are fortunate enough to be well and happy to realize what a handicap it is to be crippled or sick. Unfortunately there are many in South Bend who are not only cripples or sick but who have no money for medical attention, and often not enough for the proper food and clothing.

If your eyes could look into every corner of South Bend—into every dingy room; into every dark alley; into the homes of the poor as well as the homes of the sick; into every hospital ward with its moans and sufferings; into those little families who have been left fatherless, and into hundreds of other places made sad by misfortune, you would realize the need of giving each organization the full amount of its estimated budget.
